'RV Trust's tryst with Gandhigram to continue'

Staff Reporter

The RV Trust will extend all support to implement various social activities of the Gandhigram Trust intended to uplift economic independence of poor rural women, said Padma Venkatraman, daughter of former President R. Venkataraman. She was delivering a guest address to mark the centenary celebration of former President of India R. Venkataraman at Gandhigram near here on Saturday.

Trust secretary K. Sivakumar said that 100 youths were trained as social workers in villages around Gandhigram with the funds offered by the RV Trust .
